

THOMAS HICKEN JR.

Thomas Hicken, Jr., son of Thomas and Catharine Fewkes, was born December 19, 1852, at Provo, Utah, and died September 30, 1946, at Raymond, Alberta, Canada. He married Sarah Jane McMullin on December 2, 1880, in the Salt Lake Endowment House. She was the daughter of Henry and Mary McMullin, born October 21, 1855, at East Weber, Utah, and died in January, 1894.

Then he married Mary LaVina McMullin in 1895, daughter of Alfonso and Lucy McMullin. She was born June 20, 1873, at Heber, Utah.

When Thomas was but a small boy his parents, with their family, moved to Heber City, Utah. He, like other boys, herded cows and attended school in a little schoolhouse in the northwestern part of town.

When he was older he herded cattle out in Strawberry Valley. The Indians bothered their cattle quite a lot. One day, after the Indians had driven their cattle away, he caught one by the hair of the head, and he had a knife. He told the Indian if he ever drove the cattle away again he would cut his head off. He said they never bothered the cattle again. Father later taught school for a short time.

He married Sarah Jane McMullin, daughter of Henry and Mary McMullin. They managed the McMullin Hotel, which stood where now stands the Ashton store. They were married December 2, 1880, in the Endowment House in Salt Lake City. To them were born seven children.

Father farmer and also was assessor and collector for Wasatch County many years.

In 1893 he was called to fulfill a mission to the Southern States. He had only been there about eight months when mother gave birth to a baby girl. She got blood poison and died before father could get home, leaving seven small children. The eldest was 12 years. Father kept the family together by having several girls and women help.

On October 12, 1894, he was ordained bishop of Heber West Ward by Apostie F. M. Lyman, which position he held until April, 1902, when he and his family moved to Raymond, Alberta, Canada.

In 1895 he married Mary Lavina McMullin, daughter of Alfonso and Lucy McMullin. She was a very lovely woman, 20 years of age. She took over the job of rearing this family. They, too, had a family, consisting of 10 children.

While in Canada, father farmed, helped to pioneer the country, and always was on hand to aid in religious or any other way.

He returned to Utah on a visit whenever he could. He loved the mountains and the Stars and Stripes. He never gave up his U. S. citizenship.

This article appeared in a Raymond paper:

"The lure of the old swimming hole in Raymond is not confined to the young, as middle-age and old join in the plunge at "Scheffers" Lake, near the sugar factory. Among the happy throng was no other than 81-year-old Thomas Hicken. A splendid citizen and father of 17 children, he, with three of his sons, joined the crowd. Dad setting a pace difficult for the six-foot boys to follow. This elderly citizen is quite an active man, who believes in exercising to keep physically fit and to live long.

He died at 93, on September 30, 1946, and was buried in Raymond, Alberta, Canada.

JOHN AND MARY MAGDLENA MUNZ HUBER

John Huber, son of Johannes Huber and

Anna Elizabeth Huber. Born November 1, 1840, in Dottnacht, Switzerland. Married Mary Magdalena Munz October 18, 1863, in Payson. Died November 16, 1914, in Midway.

Mary Magdalena Munz, daughter of Heinrich Munz and Elizabeth Munz. Both had same surname. Born January 26, 1843, at Dantzhausen, Canton Turgau, Switzerland. Died July 10, 1935, Midway.

John Huber immigrated to Utah in 1863, leaving Switzerland on May 3. The ship, Antarctic, carried 300 passengers and was on the ocean 49 days.

He crossed the plains with the Peter Nebeker Company, arriving on October 13, 1863. On October 18, 1863, John Huber and Mary Magdalena Munz were married at the Payson home of John Diem, with Bishop Fairbanks performing the ceremony. He was met at Payson by his mother and stepfather, Martin and Anna Elizabeth Naegeli, who had immigrated in 1861.

In the Spring of 1864 John Huber and his wife moved to Provo Valley, where the first settlers had come in 1859-60. They located in the upper settlement of Mound City. They lived in a log house near the old Schneitter home. A baby boy was born in October, but died, and was buried in the first cemetery on the hill.

In 1868 Mr. Huber and most able-bodied men found well-paid employment on the Union Pacific Railroad, approaching Green River. Many men brought home wagons, stoves, teams, etc. John Huber and Jacob Buehler operated one of the first saw mills on Snake Creek, west of the Provo River. Logs were hauled from surrounding mountains and sawed into lumber. In 1870 a house was partly built for the family when Mr. Huber was called on a mission to Switzerland. He left April 17, 1871 and returned July 4, 1874. He served as president of the Swiss mission. He helped to translate the Book of Mormon from the English to the German language and was editor of the Millennial Star.

The farm was located up Snake Creek. Soon after, the family moved from Snake Creek to Little Cottonwood where he worked as weighmaster at the stone quarry. The stones were loaded, shipped, and delivered to Salt Lake City for building of the Salt Lake Temple. Two years later Mr. Huber moved to Salt Lake, and later returned to Midway and the farm.

Mr. Huber was a prominent citizen taking part in most community projects of varied interests: He was a Black Hawk War veteran, agent for Wasatch and Jordan Valley railroad, census taker from 1880-1900, member of the school board for 24 years, secretary of the Midway Irrigation Company for 10 years, Justice of the Peace for two years, agent for crop reporting for the U.S. Department of Agriculture, teacher of a class in penmanship. He compiled a history of Midway Ward from 1859 to 1900, and took the school census.

Mr. Huber was an accomplished musician. He composed many poems and set the words to music. He organized a choir, a male chorus, glee club, and furnished music for church, conferences, ward entertainments, and funerals.

He was ward clerk for thirty years from 1878 to 1908 and was known for the almost perfect records he kept.

Mr. Huber built several houses in Midway, some of which are still standing. He and his family—sons, grandsons, and granddaughters—served 43 years in the mission fields.

Mary Magdalena was the third of five children in her family. The family was religiously inclined, claiming membership in the Church of the Reformation.

When Mary was seven her mother died, and she grew up with a step-mother, attending school and learning household duties. At the age of 20 she became intensely interested in The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. With a close friend, Amelia Stumpf, she would walk a distance of eight miles to hear the missionaries preach.

Mary was baptized a member of the Church April 15, 1861. In the meantime, her brother Conrad and sister Bertha came to America, and she and her friend Amelia followed in 1863. They traveled by train to Florence, Nebraska, and then came by team the rest of the way to Salt Lake. At Chimney Rock, Mary and Amelia were walking arm in arm during a heavy storm, when lightning struck them. Amelia was killed, and Mary knocked unconscious. She was revived and rode part of the way in a wagon after that.

The company, headed by John Huber, landed in Salt Lake September 24, 1863, and Mary went to Payson where her grandparents Naegeli had settled two years earlier. On October 23 she married John Huber and their first home was a large room where eight other people slept on the floor every night. John worked at a cannery in Payson.

In the spring of 1864 John and Mary moved to Midway, living with Dr. John Gerber and family.

During her husband's missionary service, his work in Salt Lake and all his labors in Midway, Mary stood by as a faithful wife and mother. She was a member of the first Relief Society in Midway, and served as a counselor to Elizabeth Wintch and also to Martha Bronson. She was an officer in the Relief Society for more than 20 years.

Mary maintained her home and farm on Snake Creek, where she died at the age of 93.
